(A) Last summer, I visited the U.S. and finally met the one and only Statue of Liberty—a giant green lady standing proudly like she's the queen of New York. During our 17 ferry ride, the tour guide explained that she was a gift from France in 1886 to 18 America's independence. Honestly, the statue wasn't always green! She 19 brown until years of exposure to air turned her into a green goddess. If you glance up, you'll see she 20 a robe that's very classical—probably inspired by Roman goddess of freedom. Her crown has seven spikes 21 the sun's rays. So not only is she fashionable, she's also educational.

22 the crown and robe, her broken chains near her feet stand for freedom as well. Last but not the least, take 23 of the statue's both hands. Her left hand holds a tablet with the date "July 4, 1776," which marks when the U.S. became independent. In her right hand is a giant torch. This torch indicates the idea of enlightenment. All in all, she totally 24 the American spirit—strong, free, and independent.

Dear James Chen,

Thank you for your message. I checked your record, and you were placed in Section B because Section A was already full. The system automatically puts students into the next available section.

If you want to try moving to Section A, you need to fill out a Change of Registration form at the registrar's office. You should check every day during the add/drop period (the first two weeks of the semester), because sometimes students drop classes and seats open up.

Please make sure you turn in the form by the end of this week, so it can be processed.

Good luck with your schedule!

Best regards,

Course Registration Administrator

Joe Henry

Subject: Problem with My Course Registration

Date: Monday, September 1, 2025, 3:15 PM

Dear Administrator,

My name is James Chen, and my student ID is 45217E. I think I was put in the wrong section for Introduction to Physics.

I wanted to take Section A because it fits my lab schedule, but my timetable shows I am in Section B. When I registered online last week, the system froze. Could you tell me how I can switch to Section A?

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

James Chen

43. What problem does the student face?

- (A) He forgot to hand in his student ID.
- (B) He was dropped from the course.
- (C) He was placed in the wrong section.
- (D) He did not attend the first lecture of section A.

44. What advice does the administrator give about switching to section A?

- (A) Submit a "Change of Registration" form and check daily.
- (B) Wait until the end of the semester.
- (C) Contact the professor immediately.
- (D) Re-enroll in another department.

45. According to the administrator, how long does the add/drop period last?

- (A) One week
- (B) Two weeks
- (C) Three weeks
- (D) Four weeks

(C) Charlie Kirk was born in Illinois in 1993. At first, he lived like any other teenager, but he soon became aware that he wanted to influence schools and politics. In college, he often spoke out against what he felt were unfair ideas in education and was determined to create changes. In 2012, he founded Turning Point USA, a nonprofit organization. The beginning was difficult, and he had problems raising funds, persuading students, and gaining recognition. Even though constant travel and debates left him exhausted, he kept going, stayed focused on his goals, and used social media to expand his influence.

As a result, his ideas spread across American campuses, and many conservatives began to recognize his talent for organizing youth. He also launched The Charlie Kirk Show, which inspired some people but also caused strong disagreement.

In September 2025, while giving a speech at Utah Valley University, Kirk was killed in an attack. The tragedy shocked the nation, and many people offered support to his family. His death was filled with sorrow and debate. The President of the United States ordered an official flag-lowering in his honor.

In the end, supporters saw his life as not only a political achievement, but also a blessing for those who believed in his cause. His story now continues to spark both admiration and reflection.

46. What kind of program was The Charlie Kirk Show?

- (A) A talk show and political platform
- (B) A sports commentary
- (C) A music program featuring popular artists
- (D) A school project

47. Why did Charlie Kirk establish Turning Point USA in 2012?

- (A) To raise money for universities that needed financial support
- (B) To challenge ideas in education he thought were unjust
- (C) To create a sports club for students
- (D) To provide housing for college students

48. Which of the following is CORRECT based on the reading?

- (A) He lived most of his life in Europe, far from American campuses.
- (B) He was awarded the Medal of Freedom by the President.
- (C) He was killed in a car accident while traveling across the country.
- (D) His career was considered a political success by his supporters.
